

Creative Writing

What is this course?

- Creative Writing is a semester (half-year) elective available that promotes appreciation of different modes of written expression through the study and production of a wide range of texts. Grades 9-12 welcome!

Why should I sign up?

- This class is a great way to develop your writing skills in a variety of formats that you would not ordinarily be writing in for your standard English courses. The Creative Writing class is a tight knit community, so you can expect to make friends in class as you hone your skills.

What are some fun topics or assignments for this class?

- In this class, you'll have some choice in which creative formats you'd like to explore. These include: poetry, short stories, children's books, graphic novels, TV/ film script, investigative journalism/ newspaper articles, and more!

Where can I go for more information?

- Ms. Mentzel! I'm in Room 304 in mornings, Room 309 during 9th, and you can email me at jmentzel@rumsonfairhaven.org.
